BRAND LEGACY

INSPIRED AT THE HIGHEST LEVEL BY BEAUTY AND SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

THE ROAD TO PERFECTION

Horacio Pagani was born on November 10, 1955, in the Argentinian city of Casilda. Captivated by cars from an early age, by the time he reached high school Horacio was already honing his natural gifts and remarkable artistry, successfully building a dune buggy from the remnants of a discarded Renault.

At 18, Horacio began attending the local university, but his ardent passion for building drove him to accelerate his path, and by 1977, at just 23 years old, Horacio had opened his own shop. A year later, he was building caravans and camper shells. That same year, he also began working on the F2, a single-seat racecar that required 5,000 hours of labor. When the F2 was presented to robust acclaim within the world's most influential automotive circles, it cemented Pagani's growing reputation. The 1980s brought him continued and rapid success, as Horacio expanded into diverse new projects, including a road roughness meter designed to measure pavement degradation. In 1983, Horacio's continued innovation brought him to Italy to work at Lamborghini, where he was at the helm of several industry milestones, including the premiere of the Countach Evoluzione, the first car ever created entirely from composite materials.

A phrase by Leonardo Da Vinci—"Art and science can walk hand in hand" profoundly influences Horacio's life and work.

"When you point a visionary bow to a star and let yourself float on the wings of the dream toward an unpredictable destination, thirsty of perfection and rebel to mediocrity, you carry with you the mysterious spring of an ideal."

Horacio designs the Countach Evoluzione, the first Lamborghini with a carbon fiber chassis. In 1991, having gained extensive knowledge and insight, Horacio left Lamborghini to establish Modena Design, specializing in developing composite materials for motorsports, automotive and other industries. In parallel, Horacio began to realize a long-held dream: to build his own supercar. He started work on the vehicle in 1993, continuing to consult on various projects, and debuted his Pagani Zonda C12 in 1999 to rave reviews at the Geneva Auto Show. Over the next twelve years, Horacio would continually refine and update the Zonda, always ensuring that it remained the pinnacle of hypercar performance.

In 2011, the long-awaited Pagani Huayra was revealed. Like its predecessor, the Huayra drew instant acclaim for its extraordinary precision, engineering, and craftsmanship. Today, Pagani Automobili continues to draw a following of the world's most elite hypercar enthusiasts, with the latest model, the Pagani Utopia, further captivating its dedicated following.

Horacio founds Pagani Automobili to realize his childhood dream of building the most beautiful car in the world

2011

The Pagani Huayra debuts, approved for road use worldwide. Pagani opens to the North American market.

Inspired at the highest level by beauty and scientific research, the factory of Horacio Pagani is a tailor's atelier or an artist's studio. His source of inspiration has always been Leonardo da Vinci; and it is to the works of the great master that Horacio turns while chasing his dream: to build a car that is both an engineering marvel and a work of art. For him, it is not enough to build every component of the car with the absolute best materials, while also achieving perfection in performance. For Horacio, they must also be works of art.

2017 -

The Horacio Pagani Museo is established, and the new production Atelier is inaugurated.

The third chapter in Pagani Automobili's history begins with the debut of the Pagani Utopia.

PAGANI ARTE

THE ARTISTRY OF PAGANI THROUGH A PERSONAL LENS

A designer's mission is to improve people's lives, always seeking perfection in every detail. It is to find the balance between form and function, intellect and dexterity. The furnishings you choose to populate the spaces you live in are not just the expression of your aesthetic preference; they also convey your idea of a well-defined lifestyle—embodying exclusivity, refined taste, and sophisticated craftsmanship.

Pagani Arte originates from a creative need: to extend the Pagani experience into new fields of design. Horacio Pagani's instantly recognizable hand is behind every piece of the Pagani Arte Collection. The expertise in the use of technical materials, including carbon fiber, aluminum, and titanium, combines with the skills of the finest artisans—master craftsmen of leather, textiles, wood, and marble—to create an exclusive, customizable collection that tells the most important story: yours.

Decades spent testing and innovating materials has given Pagani unique expertise in interiors, resulting in the same meticulous attention to detail reflected in the brand's car design.

"Luckily, this passion for cars is also a passion for art, for engineering, for mechanics."

ARCHITECTURE & DESIGN STORY

ARCHITECTURE AND DESIGN: CREATING AN EXPERIENCE

A NATURAL INTERSECTION

There are many shared elements to consider in both the design of a car and the design of a home, but the one that truly unites them is the client experience—the ways each individual responds to color, texture, shape, curation. As a design and technology company, Pagani has developed an extensive understanding of materials and how they integrate into the places we inhabit every day—design that reflects both time-honored craft and advanced technology.

"Art and science are two disciplines which can walk hand in hand."
